CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

Teachers change lives. We commend you on your decision to become a teacher.

Amaltas College of Education provides a holistic platform for aspiring teachers to LEARN TO TEACH AND TEACH TO LEARN. The art of teaching involves creating a thirst for knowledge, a passion for excellence, and a desire to reach for the sky among our children and youth. This art must certainly translate into action much like in the case of the Dronacharya-Arjun relationship.

You will be moulding young minds through dedication, affection, discovering talent and exploring passion among students who will look up to you as surrogate parents. Academics are important but not all children will get high grades in the courses prescribed at the school level. Some will be more suited to a career in art, music, dance, drama, handiwork or cooking. It is the discovery of such talent that will eventually produce a Tagore, a Jasraj, a Ramanujam. A great teacher will learn to make such discovery, and Amaltas College of Education will strive to develop such teachers.

May the aspiring teachers find their vocation and satisfaction in the beautiful ambience that ACE provides to aid the thirst for knowledge and how to impart it to each new generation.
